WHAT'S WRONG WITH OUR SCHOOLS?

our company who have initiative and imagination and who can figure things out for themselves.

"But our schools are going in the opposite direction in training our youth. The child is taught to look to his teacher for the method of doing things, even for the way he should think about them. The pupil is taught to memorize and not to think. The net result is that when boys enter our employ, we really have to start their education. This is particularly unfortunate because not only our company but nearly all companies are crying out for young men able to take responsibility, possessing sound judgment and real imagination."

Perhaps this is one of the answers as to why so many of our young people are experiencing difficulty in finding jobs. Many of our educators do not seem to be perturbed about it; simply shrug their shoulders and say that if there are no jobs for the young, they should be kept just that much longer in school.

That, of course, means larger enrollments in the schools, necessitating more class-rooms and more teachers. It leads one to wonder whether our schools are run for the benefit of the teachers or of the pupils. Needless to say, and this is rather important, it adds to an already top-heavy tax burden.

Even as recently as a generation ago, most of our young people were through with their schooling at 13 or 14 years of age. They went to work. Our standard of living was constantly rising. Let it not be argued that this was because we then had untold natural resources. We still have them plus synthetic resources greater than anything ever known in the past.

Is the afore-mentioned business man correct? Is it possible that our system of education is smothering the initiative of a formerly free people? Can it be that our educational methods are fitting our children to be the slaves of a communist or nazi government, under which they will be told what to do and when and how to do it?

For 150 years we developed a people who relied upon themselves and whose courage and free enterprise built the greatest nation of free people in all the world's history. Now, we look to 'government' in our every extremity, forgetting that in a republic, we ourselves are the 'government' and that we should take care of ourselves.

Our so-called 'Liberals' think that we are through. Why do they think so? What fundamental change has come over us? Education, we know is good—is essential, but it looks as though our present methods of education are not the right ones to inculcate our children with independence of thought and integrity of character. At any rate, it is worth thinking about and looking into.

Puzzle No. 7 Solved

HEROES OF AMERICAN HISTORY

Paul Revere was a gold-and-silver-smith, a trade which he learned in his father's shop. A fine copper engraver, he was the pioneer of copper manufacturing in America. An officer of the militia, Revere was a brave patriot and took part in the Boston Tea Party. He induced the Colonists to seize English stores and to capture Fort William and Mary—one of the first battles of the Revolutionary War!

Revere was a member of the band of 30 patriots who formed a patrol to watch the movements of the British forces. Long-fellow, in his well-known poem, has commemorated the famous ride of Paul Revere at midnight on April 18th, 1775, to rouse the farmers and warn them of the approach of the British forces.
