S'LONG FELLERS:—

There they go for maybe a year
Many a Mother and Sweetheart
shed a tear

But, a tear of happiness and not of fear

To train and protect our America,
so dear.

— DAVE MACK

Ida Burchetta and Frank Presti are walking along with love music . . . Sylvia Rehn and Henny Scofield believe that two's company and three's a mob . . . That Charlotte Lent? Art Ingram affair is rawther cute, don't you think? . . . Nickle, nickle, do-di-ta-ta, Nickle nickle, Frankie Nickolas and Lorraine Carter are a lot and not twelve full ounces . . . Connie Di Maio and Eddie Carrier are shopping for a wedding band and not the one that has a tuba . . . Charlie Brooks and Kat Schueler are schueling along the brook of love . . . Well, slap my back and call me wacky, Dottie Hyland and Bill Ryan shove off on April 19th . . . And er! . . . er . . . Buddy Vanderheyden and Louise LiVolsi ditto the same day. It still will rain on April 19th . . . The Frank Visto's anticipate a bundle from heaven on the same day.

Latest book of the week: "Went with the Wind", by A. Wind. . . Lovely Flo Bates and Frank Hutchins are shopping for an apheartment . . . Rocky Caputo, former St. Basil grid star, just married a Pittsburg lassie . . . Card from Jim Loboza stationed at Fort Slocum . . . Pat Gandiana at Army unit in Alabama . . . Anne Van Auker and Artie Mayo recently engaged. Nice party . . . Shirley Raymond and Roy Fricks are counting the lonely nights together . . . Pearl Westerberg and Herbie Trolle had a magnificent wedding the other day . . . Pete Croletti and Marie Casimo are blocking hats in the same shop together and sir Cupid is working overtime for them . . . Flo Evey and Bill Thompson are making plans for that little chicken farm up High Ridge Road after their sealed . . . "Who hit the slot-machine man", is the new song up the west side. Let Mickey Bird tell you about it . . . Wave lengths will change on March 29th. Have your radio readjusted by Micky Stolfi!

Edith Mitchell and Jim Pudy are slapping that gong around . . . Larry Carlucci and Lois Kilgallen are whoozy - whoozy - poopoopee-doing . . . Helen Hurley and Joey Dorrico had a swell engagement party last week (Methinks it's gonna be a June wedding. But, who am I to rush things?) . . . Mileo Allegretta can't remember to forget about Louise Renzulle . . . Fanny Di Pietro and Mario Tozzoli are coo-cooing . . . What's this about a certain Pacific Street man inventing a medicine to cure any sort of poison within twenty-four hours. The name, Mario Russo . . . Katie Cavanaugh and Gene Tamburri leap into the pool of matrimony on April 21st . . . Claude Hopkins band at the Palace theatre smelled to the ceiling . . . Coming Saturday Al Donnohue will present a splendid show. Take this writers word for it, because we do not accept theater ducats to praise a show. That is our personal opinion. . . John Cunari is going to join the Army, but first he wants to get married . . . Charles Haensler saw a robin outside his window yesterday morning at Clovelly Place.

Air Used by Normal Adult
The quantity of air used by a normal adult varies considerably with his activity. For every 100 cubic feet consumed while lying down, says Collier's Weekly, a man will inhale 115 cubic feet while sitting, 178 while standing and 244 while walking.

COLONEL
WILLIAM FREDERICK
CODY
BUFFALO BILL

Born in Scott County, Iowa. William F. Cody, at 14, joined the "Pony Express" that group of daring riders who, braving Indians and hostile and living on the constant edge of death, carried the mails from Missouri to California.

Cody once undertook to supply the workmen on the Kansas Pacific Railway with buffalo meat, and so well did he succeed that he became known as Buffalo Bill. In 1876 Cody was with the U. S. Cavalry that went to avenge the death of Gen. Custer. He encountered Yellow Hand, the Cheyenne Indian Chief, in a hand-to-hand contest, fought with knives, and slew him. In 1883 Cody organized the "Wild West Show," a spectacular performance of difficult riding and shooting feats, which became popular and later toured Europe. He lies buried in a tomb that was blasted from solid rock on Lookout Mountain, about twenty miles from Denver, Colorado.
